DREAM SUMMMER 2018

• • Dream Summer Fellowship • •

The Dream Summer Fellowship was created in 2010, after immigrant youth leaders were moved by the US Senate's failure to pass the federal DREAM Act to create a way of developing future leaders in the immigrant rights movement. The result was the inaugural Dream Summer Fellowship, a national program that:

- Empowers immigrant youth to be the next generation of social justice leaders through professional development and national networking opportunities.
- Creates safe and healing spaces for immigrant youth to connect with each other and explore their identities.
- Promotes an intersectional, cross-racial, and multi-generational approach to social justice that addresses the needs of immigrant communities.
